

What's wrong with soda?

Drinking one 20-oz. soda every day for a year, if contributing to more calories than your body needs, can lead to a weight gain of about 26 pounds per year. Low-fat and non-fat milk, 100% juice, and water are healthier choices.

A message from Shasta County Public Health